Dates: April 13, and 14 - 2010
Tuesday and Wednesday
8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Location: Jacob K. Javits Federal Building
26 Federal Plaza, New York, NY 10278
Classroom 3305

The four sessions in this two-day course are designed to improve the leadership effectiveness of federal employees. Presented and led by Jerry Strom, creator of the highly popular 'Six Core Competencies of Leadership' training series, this class builds essential leadership skills associated with OPM's recommended 'Executive Core Qualifications' for leadership. Incorporating recent surveys and research within the federal sector, you'll improve business acumen, the capacity to lead change, lead people, drive results, and build coalitions.

Day One. [Think.]

The Force of Impact: How You Can Apply a Double Standard of Thinking that Improves Your Results.

Morning Session: "Strategic Thinking." Having a structured, methodical, process-driven roadmap to your organization's future is essential to provide guidance, and support the rationale, behind your decisions, implementation of initiatives, and allocation of resources.

Afternoon Session: "Creative, Innovative, and Adaptive Thinking." Accomplishing the strategic initiatives, goals, and the mission of the agency is dramatically improved when imaginative, thought-provoking ideas are used as a catalyst to see work accomplished in new ways, with new focus, clarity, and energy.

Day Two. [Act.]

The Point of Impact: Understanding the W.O.W. Factor between Leadership and Relationships.

Morning Session: "Socially Intelligent Leadership." Your effectiveness at leading others depends on a balance of competence, and social intelligence. Interpersonal skills will determine how well you will do as a leader.

Afternoon Session: "The Leading Interactions that Determine Your Impact." A 'W.O.W.' Factor is always in play when working with others – you need to fully understand the primary wants and desires that people have while following the leader. See what the surveys say, and how this information can impact the actions you take.
